Experience:
At Lafayette H.S., Williamsburg, Va., I earned a starting position on Varsity Football 10 th 11 th 12 th grade.
2008 I was Team Captain, reading the opponents offense and calling on field defense.
I earned the title of "The Iron Man" In 2008, consisting of breaking the school record for squat lifting 475 lbs., my G.P.A., speed in the 40-yard dash, vertical jump and overall athletic abilities. I have no injuries.
Head Coach Paul Wheeler at Lafayette H.S. states: I am explosive-fast, hard-hitting, hard-working, have the best natural ability to read offense and call defense on the field than any player he coached in 10 yrs.
2008 season I played Iron Man Football - Offense, Defense + Special Teams with the same passion whether carrying the ball, blocking or tackling. 2006 I ran indoor track to develop and increase my speed.
Academics:
Completed required credits for graduation my 3rd year of H.S., Spring 2008. Now finishing advanced placement courses in Trigonometry, Human Geography, Government and Biology to ensue a smooth transition to college classes.
I Fulfilled all educational requirements for acceptance to L.U. and play Div I Football in 2009.
Hobbies:
I passionately enjoy studying and learning football plays, defense and offense of NFL teams and NCAA teams as I work to become the best football player I can possibly be.
Marital Arts, I received my Black Belt from the World Taekwondo Federation from Korea in 2005.
I am an active member of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Department of Defense and Homeland Security in Newport News, Va., Flotilla # 65. I thrive on working out and enhancing my speed & physical abilities.
Goals:
To earn a position on the L.U. Football Team and play football 4-5 years while earning my bachelors degree at L.U. in Engineering and hope to play Pro-Football then coach college football.
I am Ready to Rock & Roll
